struments. The spread of the conflagration in San Francisco was further detailed in the following dispatch:

"Fire burning north of Broadway as far as Green Street: Everything is gon in the section lying between Eighth Street and the waterfront, and southward between Market and Mission Streets."

At 5 o'clock to-night the firemen were as far as ever from checking the progress of the flames. In the northern section of the downtown business section the fire swept around the hall of justice and communicated to Chinatown; thence proceeding westward into the heart of that colony. It then began rapidly eating its way southward on both sides of Kearney Street, and at 7 P. M. was within, a block of the California Hotel. This point is near the plant of the Evening Bulletin, in which the three morning papers had agreed to join to issue a four-sheet paper to-morrow morning. That plan was abandoned, as the Bulletin lies directly in the path of the

PALACE HOTEL BURNED.

About 6 o'clock to-night the world-famous Palace Hotel, built at a cost of millions, fell a prey to the conflagration, and the Crocker building, across the street, began to emit smoke.

One of the big losses of the day was the destruction of St. Ignatius Church and College, at Van Ness Avenue and Hayes Street. This was the greatest Jesuit institution in the West, and was built at a cost of a couple of millions.

At 7 o'clock to-night the fire had swept from the south side of the town across Market Street, into the western addition, and was burning houses at Golden Gate Avenue and Octavia Street. This result was reached after almost the entire district from Ninth Street to the eastern water front had been converted into a blackened waste. In this quarter were hundreds of factories, wholesale houses and many business firms, in addition to thousands of homes. On the north side the fire to-night was not making such rapd headway as in the western addition, where there is a limited water supply available. The firemen are making desperate efforts to prevent the encroachments of the devastation. Temporary headquarters were established in tents in Portsmouth Square this evening for Mayor Schmitz, Chief of Police Dinan and General Funston, but this site became too dangerous about 6 o'clock and was abandoned. Later the flames swept the square.

In the south side district, on Rincon Hill, St. Mary's Hospital, a landmark, conducted by the Sisters of Mercy, was reduced to

SCENE OF DESOLATION.

Throughout the city, wherever there is a public square, a scene of desolation is presented. Tents have been pitched by fortunate possessors of canvass, but most of the homeless people are huddled in frightened groups about the household belongings they managed to save from the general ruin.

From Golden Gate Park comes news of the total destruction of the immense building covering a portion of the children's play-

The burned district extends from the water front south of Market. Street to Market Street and west to Eleventh Street, north of Market. The fire extends out flayes and McAllister Streets nearly to Fillmore, and from the water front along Market to Montgomery and north from the water front to Montgomery Street. Manufactories, hotels, wholesale houses and front to Montgomery Street. Manufactories, hotels, wholesale houses and front destroyed. The City Hall, a structure costing $7,000,000, was first wrecked by the carthquake, and then destroyed by fire. The Palace Hotel, value estimated at $5,000,000, was also burned. The beautiful Claus Spreckles building, at Third and Market Streets, was gutted. The Rialto building and dozens of other costly structures were also destroyed. The Hall of Justice is threatened and will undoubtedly go. The Examiner and the Call buildings are gone, and the Crocker building across the street from the Palace Hotel, is one fire.

No afternoon papers, were Issued, and it is doubtful if the morning papers will appear. The Southern Pacific tracks are in such condition that only a crippled service has been possible.

The Chronicle building and its new annex are still standing.

The freaks of the carthquake were many. Wide fissures were made in the streets, street railways were twisted out of line, sewers and water pipes were burst, and it is feared that there will be an epidemic of disease. Provisions are sold at fancy prices, and even water is vended by the glass. It is impossible to give a list of the dead and wounded, or even a list of the principal buildings.

MAYOR'S PROCLAMATION.

At a meeting of the Committee of Safety to-day Mayor Schmitz issued the following proclamation:

PROCLAMATION.

To the Citizens of San Francisco;
The Federal troops, which are now policing a portion of the city, as well as the regular and special members of the police force, have been authorized by me to kill any persons whomsoever found engaged in looting the effects of any citizens or otherwise engaged in the commission of crime.

Under these circumstances they request that all citizent, whose business does not imperatively require their absence from home after dark, to remain at home during the night time until order shall have been restored. I beg to warn all citizens of the danger of fire on account of defective or destroyed chimneys, gas pipes, gas fixtures and the like.

I at first thought it was prickly heat. But soon scales or crusts formed where the breaking out was. Instead of going to a physician, I purchased a complete treatment of the Cuticura Remedies, in which I had great faith, and all was satisfactory. A year or two later the cruption appeared again, only a little lower; but before it had time to spread I procured another supply of the Cuticura Remedies, and continued their use until the cure was complete. It is now five years since the last attack, and have not seen any signs of a return. I have taken about three bottles of the Cuticura Resolvent, and do not know how much of the Soap or Ointment, as I always keep them with me; probably one half dozen of each.

"I decided to give the Cuticura Remedies a trial after I had seen the results of their treatment of eczema on an infant belonging to one of our neighbors. The parent took the child to the nearest physician, but his treatment did no good. So they procured the Cuticura Remedies and cured her with them. When they began using Cuticura Remedies her face was terribly disfigured with sores, but she was entirely cured, for I saw the same child at the age of five years, and her mother told me the eczema had never broken out since. I have more faith in Cuticura Remedies for akin diseases than anything I know of. I am, respectfully yours, Erma E. Wilson, Liscomb, Iowa, Oct. 1, 1905."

It appeared that the great Mills building would block some of the southward sweep of the blaze, as it had already checked an advance northward earlier in the night. If this proves true, the limits of the fire will be determined, but pre-
